Case Study

Needs

An ISP client needed a system where they can upload their complete client's and vendor's information. Information was not centralized. The client used several excel to collect data and manipulated according to their needs. It took them several time to conclude whatever they needed information on.

Solutions

A basic CRM with Vendor information on .Net frame work solution was created. Since the client is in data center business so the getting a dedicated server was not a problem. They actually saved money on this side.

Intelisales created a complete solution where the client can access their assigned customers IP address and vendors IP addresses. The complete wholesale and retail pricing was incorporated as well.
